NEW TRANSIT ACCESSIBILITY CAMPAIGN

Stratford Transit is participating in a new campaign to raise awareness of transit accessibility features, and to encourage customers to consider the needs of others.

This campaign was developed by the Ontario Public Transit Association in partnership with various local transit agencies that will also be sharing it to promote compliance with Ontario's accessibility standards.

The goal is to educate transit riders about accessibility features, such as priority seating and service animals. It also reminds people that not all disabilities are visible.

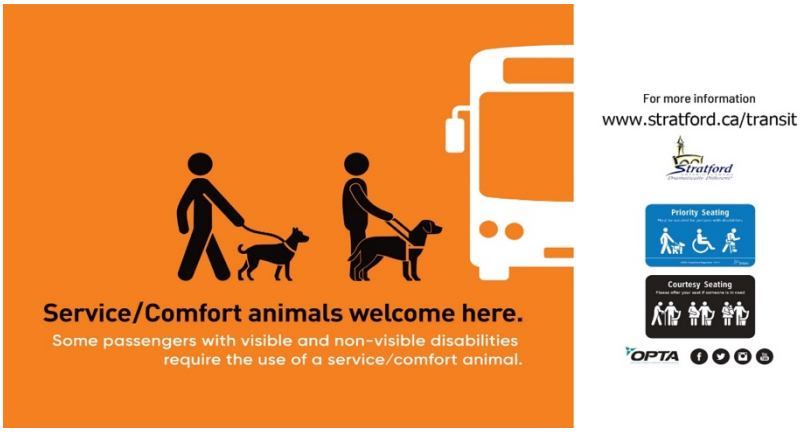
#AccessibleTransitMatters

Be aware, look up at every stop.
If you are able, offer your seat to passengers with visible and non-visible disabilities.

Remember not all disabilities are visible.
Offer your seat to other passengers if you are able.

Be thoughtful.
If you are able, offer your seat to passengers with visible and non-visible disabilities.

Service/Comfort animals welcome here.
Some passengers with visible and non-visible disabilities require the use of a service/comfort animal.



Stand up for your neighbours.
If you are able, offer your seat to other passengers.
