Address: 151 Nile Street

Legal Description: Part Lots 8, 7, and 80 Plan 12

Designation By-law: 3-94

By-Law Designation Date: January 10, 1994

Date of Construction: 1891

Architectural Style: Italianate with Queen Anne elements

Architectural Description: two storey red brick ell shaped with a gable roof section on the right and a decorative gable in the centre of the section on the left; the hip roof has a centre flat section; there are four brackets at the corners of the roof; first floor on the left has a single pane segmentally arched window; next to this is a double entrance door with a segmentally arched transom; the projecting section on the right has a segmentally arched window with a transom. The porch occupies the space from the left wall of the projecting section to the left wall of the inset section; the porch is a two storey open porch supported by Doric columns resting on stone posts; the railings have shaped balustrades; the upstairs porch has a slightly sloped roof at the edges and a flat roof above that the railings are the same as on the first floor of the porch divided by square posts; second floor on the left; a double door leads onto the porch and a double window is on the right side over the porch; the projecting portion on the right has two segmentally arched windows set close together above this are two semicircular windows under the gable that is decorated with brackets under the eaves returns and decorative wood work and spool work in the gable; the gable in the centre of the section on the left has a round window under it and similar wood work to the gable on the right. The right hand wall has no windows upstairs and two small round windows on the first floor. There is a two storey bay towards the rear of the house that has windows on each floor at the sides of the bay but no windows in the centre of the bay. A decorative gable, similar to the other ones on the house is above this bay.

The house was built by Jeremiah Duggan, who owned Stratford's first major department store.