

Address: 86 Milton Street

Legal Description: Part Lot 36 and 37, Plan 55

Designation By-law: 61-2004

By-Law Designation Date: April 13, 2004

Date of Construction: 1875

Architectural Style: Gothic Revival

Architectural Description: one and one half storey gable to the street yellow brick with gable roof; ginger bread trim under the slope of the roof and a drop finial at the peak; first floor; entrance door on the left with wide wood trim at the sides and top; hip roof over small open porch supported by wrought iron posts; wrought iron railing; three part bay window with side angles and a hip roof; side windows are rectangular one over one pane; centre window rectangular two over two panes; second floor; two rectangular two over two paned windows; right side; window on first floor on either side of the chimney; left side; two over two paned window on first floor; smaller window in the centre of the wall on the second floor. There is a tail on the house with two windows in it.

The house was built by George McFadden, a teamster by trade. Arthur Lansbury owned the house and worked in the freight shed of the CNR. Russell Sarvis, another owner of the house worked as a sheet metal worker for the CNR.